Popular California Summer Resorts Prepared for Vacation Throngs.....

Exciting Sports Events Thrill Lake Visitors

As if the day-by-day program of boating, fishing, dancing, hiking, horseback riding, tennis, golf and other events were not enough to keep vacationing Arrowheaders busy, this summer season will sparkle with one special event after another.

Racket-wielders will flock to the North Shore and Tennis Club tournaments, scheduled for June 23, 24, 26. The Yacht Club on June 24 will install its new officers at their annual dinner dance.

On July 1, the homely game of horseshoes will bring home-owners together in friendly rivalry for a horseshoe tournament most likely to prove a knock-down-and-drag-out affair. Following on its heels will be the Lake Arrowhead Golf Tournament, dates of which are July 7, 8 and 9.

Date for the Ladies Invitational Tennis Tournament, which was merged with the big tournament in August last year, is July 15 and 16. Hotel guests take a cue from legendary Robin Hood July 17 to 21, and furbish up their bows and arrows for the annual Archery Tournament.

Other events for the same month are the golf tournament between home owners and hotel guests, July 24; the North Shore Tavern Play Day July 26, and the Mile-High Swim, July 29, 30.

Big Sport Days
The big day for tennis comes August 4, when the three-day Lake Arrowhead tennis tournaments will commence.

Both hotel guests and residents will match aquatic prowess in the swimming meet August 5. The blue lake is likewise scene for the next sports event August 19, the championship water-skiing and jumps.

Newscameras will be focused waterward for the champion aquaplaning for hotel guests and residents, which will make August 26 a day to be remembered.

The cool cleaving of waves by white-winged pleasure craft makes the Mile High Regatta, September 4, 5 and 6 invariably a beautiful as well as significant occasion. It is the main show in the summer program that the Lake Arrowhead Yacht Club, under Commodore Victor Montgomery, carries on each season.

Not to be forgotten is the brand new Fiesta in August, which this year will raise funds for the Lake Arrowhead Community church, and is intended to become an annual event.

Palm Springs Folk Operate Swim Shop at Balboa

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smith, who during the winter season operate the Village Toggery at Palm Springs, during the summer vacation season operate the Swim Shop at Balboa.

SWIM, SAIL, FISH AND PLAY AT NEWPORT-BALBOA

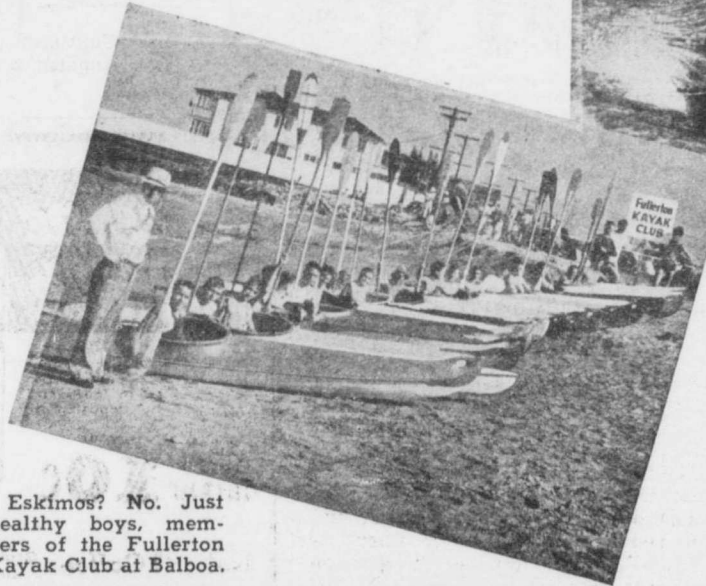

Newport-Balboa, June 15—Depressions may come and depressions may go but the tide of travel to the West, which means largely to California, will go on forever. This statement which all authorities believe prompts us to remind you there will always be growth in Southern California.

"Tourism," a new-fangled word meaning the business of catering to tourists will be an "industry" in Southern California when we learn to cater to the wants, whims, and wishes of the worth while tourist or traveler, as they designate "visitors" in Europe. Then we will reap the full benefits that come with fully serving the traveling public.

resort and finest recreational and residential harbor, plans are now shaping for extending development to the Upper Bay, an area as large as the lower part, but as yet untouched. This new region extends inland three or four miles surrounded by agricultural lands with contours admirably adaptable to beautiful development.

Time will be required, for the area must first be studied and surveyed. Then will come desirable plans for layouts which can be carried out a unit at a time.

In the meanwhile two thousand or more boats of all sizes and types are using Newport Harbor and still more are planning to take advantage of the very favorable conditions. Here is safe and sheltered salt water, with easy and quick access to the ocean. Clean, ever changing salt water in which to sail or to anchor.

Big Bear Offers Much to Summer Vacationists

Big Bear Lake is one of Southern California's most popular summer and winter resorts.

Slightly more than 100 miles from Los Angeles and but 47 miles from San Bernardino over one of the finest mountain roads in Southern California, the lake and the community of Big Bear are located in a beautiful open valley. On every side stretches miles of wilderness which seems unchanged by the advance of civilization.

Lake Development

It is estimated there are 58 camps and resorts around the lake, and 2200 private homes in the area. The major part of these resorts are clustered about the south shore, east and west of the village of Big Bear, although there are a number on the north and east shores as well.

In spite of the many homes and thousands of visitors to the section annually, Big Bear Lake is a fisherman's paradise. Last year, through the cooperation of the California Fish and Game commission and the urgent efforts of the sportsmen and public-minded citizens of the district, the lake was restocked with trout. During the season, fish of exceptional size were taken out by the thousands.

Facilities Offered

All the modern equipment necessary for fishermen is provided by the numerous boathouses located on the shore of the lake. Outboard motor boats, row boats, and large pleasure craft are available to the fisherman and boating enthusiast.

As well as being a pleasure resort, however, Big Bear also is a health resort. Many people appreciate this fact and have taken advantage of the opportunities for rest and relaxation that the Valley offers. For the city dweller nothing more healthful could be prescribed than a few weeks in these mountains in contact with nature unblemished, and in an atmosphere exhilarating and pure.

Clear Atmosphere

The altitude is 6,800 feet, and the clearness of the atmosphere is invigorating, though not too rare. The climate offers four seasons, with the days warm and the nights cool.

Limitless miles of bridle trails open new worlds to the city vacationer. Lush-green golf courses, as modern as can be found anywhere and replete with sporting hazards to challenge the best of golfers, are within the reach of those who play the game. Swimming and tennis are open to all, with nightly dancing over glistening floors to the music of some of the nation's best bands make Big Bear Lake a popular spa.

Big Bear Now Has Bowling Alley

Construction work on the new, modern Big Bear Duck Pin Bowling Academy is now completed and the new alley was opened for the first time Saturday night, May 27.

Mr. Darnell, owner of this newest enterprise in Big Bear, has brought to the valley one of the finest miniature or "duck pin alleys" to be found in Southern California.

The new bowling academy consists of six alleys and will fill a long felt need for a recreational center of this kind at the lake.

The new bowling alley is owned and operated by Ben F. Darnell of Palm Springs, who built and was the first operator of the Palm Springs Bowling Academy at the famous winter resort.

Planning Commission Will Present Proposed New Zoning Ordinance To City Council Next Week

Wednesday night, June 14, the planning commission held its last meeting on the proposed new zoning ordinance, and the commission's report was prepared for presentation to the city council next Wednesday night, June 21.

The proposed new zoning ordinance, that will be presented by the planning commission to the city council next Wednesday, is similar to the original draft prepared by the commission with the assistance of L. Deming Tilton, city planning expert. The original draft has been altered somewhat to conform with local conditions, officials state.

After the report of the planning commission has been filed with the city council, that body will probably next Wednesday night fix dates for hearings to be held before the council on the proposed ordinance. The hearings are necessary before the final adoption of the proposed zoning ordinance.

This Wednesday night 12 requests of property owners for change of zone were acted upon. Eleven of the twelve requests were denied.

The next meeting of the planning commission will be held Thursday, June 29, 8:00 p. m., in the council chambers on North Palm Canyon Drive.

Local Voters Cast 250 Absentee Ballots In Voided Election

According to City Clerk Guy Pinney, over 400 absentee ballots were applied for and distributed for the now-called-off disincorporation election.

Over 150 of these absentee ballots were voted immediately in the city clerk's office. Another 100 have been received to date in the mail by Clerk Pinney, bringing up to a total of over 250 absentee ballots that have been cast to date in the now voided local election.

A very unusual accident resulted in Mrs. Ben Darnell being confined to a hospital for two weeks. The accident happened at her husband's bowling alley at Big Bear.

She was sharpening some indelible pencils for score sheets and somehow slipped and fell and sat down hard on one of the pencils which stabbed the fleshy part of her leg, penetrating for several inches into the flesh.

J. P. Waller is now summering at Beverly Hills, where he resides on Reeves Drive.

Bessie Goldberg has moved to Los Angeles for the summer.

Planning Commission Favors Tramway

Lions Will Meet At P. S. Hotel

The summer unofficial luncheon meetings of the Palm Springs Lions Club are still being held at the Palm Springs Hotel. About 14 Lions attended the meeting this Thursday noon.

The meeting next Thursday noon will again be held in the dining room of the Palm Springs Hotel.

"Americanism is a way of life, based on this abiding faith. It is a willingness to live in peace and harmony with our fellowmen, regardless of political or religious faith."

Surprise Desserts

By BETTY BARCLAY

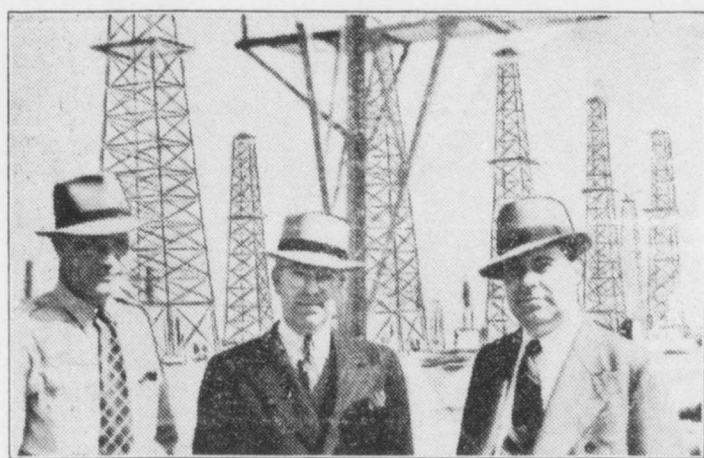

There are dozens of occasions during the year when the average woman wonders what to serve for dessert. She may be entertaining her sewing circle or her club. She may be preparing lunch for a children's party. She may be worrying about what to serve to those business friends who are coming to dinner with her husband.

An unusual dish is desirable in a case like this. But it should be a dish that may be prepared earlier in the day, so that the full attention of the hostess may be devoted to her "hot dishes" when dinner time is approaching.

Here is an economical dish, easy to prepare, healthful and unusual. It requires no eggs, no baking and no boiling. It may be prepared as early in the morning as you wish. Try it:

Honey-Nut Rennet-Custard
1 rennet tablet
1 tablespoon cold water
1 pint milk
3 tablespoons honey
½ cup pecans
Chop pecans and divide among dessert glasses. Dissolve the rennet tablet in cold water. Add honey to milk and warm to lukewarm in top of double boiler, stirring to be sure honey blends with milk. Remove from stove and add dissolved rennet tablet. Stir quickly for a few seconds, pour at once over the nuts. Let set until firm — about 10 minutes. Then chill in refrigerator. When ready to serve, garnish with whipped cream and honey.

Turkey Goes American

This picture shows celebrated Turkish newspaper man, novelist and playwright, M. C. Ezine (right), at the Wilmington oil field of General Petroleum, included in a tour which he is making of this country to discover ways and means of building closer relationships with America. Accompanying Ezine are: Left—C. J. Dean, field engineer. Center—N. H. Marsh, manager of export sales for the western markets of Mobilgas and Mobiloil.

Turkey rides in American automobiles, uses American gasoline and motor oil, buys American radio sets, enjoys motion pictures produced in America, and is an important market for these and other products produced in this country.

Her people, following the example of the United States, now enjoy equal rights and religious freedom.

Her women are no longer relegated to the background and compelled to veil their faces, but they take part in public affairs, 18 of them serving in parliament, three as city mayors, 12 as judges, and many as doctors and lawyers.

Her president, Ismet Inonu, is a great admirer of the United States, having spent a year learning English for the international broadcast in February, marking the opening of America's two great world's fairs, when his voice was heard over an international hookup.

Such is the gist of statements made by M. C. Ezine of Istanbul, special correspondent for the daily Cumhuriyet, official newspaper of the Turkish republic, to N. H. Marsh, manager of export sales for General Petroleum Corporation, marketers of Mobilgas and Mobiloil, during a visit just made to the oil fields and refineries in California.

Ezine, who is also a novelist and a playwright, one of his plays, "Jacob and the Others," being booked for Paris and New York in October, is spending several weeks in this state viewing industries, scenic wonders, and the great fair in San Francisco, after which he will go to the big Eastern centers. He is writing articles daily on American political, social and economic life.

"Particularly amazing to me," said the distinguished visitor, after inspecting oil fields and Mobilgas refineries, "is the extent and efficiency of America's great oil industry, supplying 80 per cent of the oil of the world. If Columbus hadn't discovered this country, and Drake hadn't drilled for oil on this continent, we would not now be riding in motor cars."

"Our republic imports all its gasoline and oil from the United States, the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, with which General Petroleum is affiliated, being the principal supplier. The only modern service stations we have are the ones operated by this company and they are just as modern as the fine Mobilgas stations I see on the Pacific coast. Gasoline costs us about 75 cents a gallon, and motor oil, $1.80 a gallon. We have good asphalt roads, but we do not motor as much because I have seen more automobiles in one of your cities than in all of Turkey with its 20,000,000 population."

"Because the United States has made more progress in 150 years than Europe has in 1,000 years, our paper has sent me here to discover ways and means of building closer relationships between our two peoples."

AXEL ANDERSON TAKES BRIDE

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Mills will spend the major portion of the summer at Balboa Beach, returning to the village about August 1.

No Election June 21 Judge Rules

Palm Springs will not vote on disincorporation June 21 as scheduled, Superior Judge O. K. Morton, in a special night session Monday, in Riverside, ruled that the petition on which the special election was called carried insufficient signatures. Only 14 names were lacking to make the petition eligible under the state's laws, the superior judge ruled.

The court's ruling put an abrupt end to plans for the election. Hundreds of absentee ballots had been arranged for by persons who will be out of Palm Springs on the day set for the election; other general arrangements had been completed for the special balloting. Interest was running high.

In ordering a writ of certiorari (review) to issue, Judge Morton determined that 20 per cent of the qualified electors of the city as of November, the date of the last state general election, had not signed the petition for disincorporation.

According to the petition for the writ, advanced by Mrs. Harriet Cody of Palm Springs, there were 306 names on the petition approved by the city council, but only 261 were of persons who were qualified voters on November 8.

Judge Morton voiced his ruling after an arduous night session, required because of the emergency nature of the proceedings.

In making his decision, he answered objections of City Attorney Roy W. Colegate that the petition for the writ of certiorari was not the proper method for correcting the error. The jurist declared that because of the determination of the qualifications of the electors being necessary, a judicial hearing of review was a proper proceeding.

He agreed with the contention of the attorneys for Mrs. Cody, C. L. McFarland of Riverside and Saul Ruskin of Palm Springs, that the writ had been properly drawn up, although it had named the Palm Springs city council as individuals rather than a group.

County Relief Budget May Reach $1,708,431

Combined federal, state and county relief funds to be administered by the county welfare department in 1939-40 will approximate $1,708,431, it is estimated by T. E. Murray, director of the department. This total does not include expenditures by the State Relief Administration and the Works Progress Administration.

Murray disclosed the figure in submitting to County Auditor Ray T. Hicks his tentative budget for the approaching fiscal year, explaining that his figures are wholly tentative since the legislature is not yet through juggling the relief, old age pension, blind and orphan aid and other funds that have a direct effect upon the counties.

Must Raise $442,711
Of the record-breaking fund (it was $1,505,821 last year) the county taxpayers will dig into their pockets for $442,711 if Murray's budget is allowed as requested. The remainder will be paid from the state and federal funds, both funds being exclusive of the SRA and WPA expenditures.

Murray says most of the increase in the annual budget results from liberalizing of relief and old age pension laws by the California legislature. Many extremely liberalized measures which, it was feared, would run the state into bankruptcy speedily if they were adopted, were killed in the legislature.

Murray foresees a total of nearly 3400 old age pension cases in the county during the coming year, an increase of about 350 over present beneficiaries. He estimates it will cost $78,516 in salaries to run his department, with $11,875 in operating charges and new equipment $2049.

Mr. Burke is in the customers department of the Banning office.

TIME OUT FOR FUN

Now is the time to buy that new automobile, in this case a 1939 Buick from the Desert Inn Garage, and hie yourself and family to some of the dozens of ideal vacation spots in Southern California. The convertible phaeton model like the one shown here with the two fair bathers, is popular this year, although the regular 5 passenger sedan still leads all others in public choice, Mr. Billington, the local manager, says.

Yosemite Ready For Summer Vacationists

San Francisco, June 16.—Summer has arrived in Yosemite National Park. Vanguards of summer throngs are being greeted with completed preparations for the vacation season. Among these is the resumption of summer schedules by the park checking stations, Lawrence C. Merriam, park superintendent, informed the National Park Service regional office of the Interior Department this week.

The Arch Rock ranger station on the All-Year Highway from Merced is now open from 5 a. m. to midnight. Traffic controls on a ten-mile section of the highway are in effect, as announced by the California division of highways. Schedules, arranged to minimize inconvenience for motorists, are available in the park, as well as in Merced and other gateway cities to the scenic playground.

The ranger station at the south entrance is in operation from 6 a. m. to midnight. The Chowchilla mountain station on the entrance road into the park near Wawona from Mariposa is open from the same hour in the morning but closes at 9:30 p. m. Similar hours apply to Aspen Valley and Tioga Pass ranger stations.

Motorists using the Big Oak Flat road from Manteca or Modesto through Oakdale will find the Crane Flat ranger station open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. Four miles of the road is under control on the section between Gentry ranger station and El Capitan ranger station. Superintendent Merriam announces that up travel is permitted on even hours and the 25 minutes following and down travel on the odd hours and the 25 minutes following.

Free public campgrounds are now available in Yosemite Valley and in other sections of the park, including Glacier Point and Mariposa Grove. Hotel and other accommodations are in operation the entire year, including the well known Ahwahnee, Yosemite Lodge, and Camp Curry. The latter recently celebrated its fortieth anniversary, dating back to days of unpaved roads and horse and buggy transportation.

BOTTLE NAMED COMMISSIONER

A. E. Bottel who resigned as Riverside county agricultural commissioner three months ago, was appointed commissioner for Lake County in Northern California, according to word received today.

Friends of the former Riverside county man said his new position will be ideal for him since some of his most important work while employed in the Los Angeles county agricultural office several years ago related to the pear raising industry. Lake county is one of the largest pear-producing counties in California.

He served Riverside county as commissioner 17 years. Recently his assistance in forming the San Jacinto State Mountain Park was lauded by directors of the Riverside County Chamber of Commerce.

Set not thyself to attain much rest, but much patience.—Thomas a' Kempis.

To receive honestly is the best thanks for a good thing.—George MacDonald.

GIVEN THIRTY DAY SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Harold George was given a thirty day suspended sentence in Judge Hoffman's court recently providing the Warren Dairy of San Bernardino, which has been distributing milk in the city, conforms to state and county health requirements, and does not operate within the city of Palm Springs for a year. George is a brother of the owner of the dairy and director of the company, as well as driver of the company's truck in this city. County Health Officer Norman Harris had brought charges against George for distributing milk that failed to meet county requirements.

COMMISSION O.K.'s MASTER ROAD PLAN

Without objection, the county planning commission Wednesday submitted to the board of supervisors with its favorable recommendation for adoption of a proposed master highway plan of Riverside county.

The action was taken following to planning along these highways, Ross explained.

Requests have been received from groups in Palm Springs and Corona to zone along highways leading into those communities. The commission has done nothing more than discuss an ordinance for such planning, however.

OVER 70 MEMBERS TAKEN IN BY NEW P. S. CHAMBER

Attend County Zoning Meeting In Riverside

W. R. Hillery and C. M. Gephert represented the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce at the public hearing for county district zoning held in Riverside on Wednesday morning.

They reported that the county zoning map was approved, which shows all the existing roads and the new roads now under construction.

The zoning plan is generally endorsed by Cathedral City property owners. ***

It is reported Robert Scholtes accompanied Harvey E. Peterson to the Santa Catalina Island fishing grounds this past week. So far there has been no mention of the size of the catch in the metropolitan dailies. ***

Elmer Hearn returned this past week from a trip East on which he took Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cobb as far as Detroit where they took delivery of a new car. The Cobbs at last reports were in Oregon and after visiting the fair at San Francisco should reach this village in about ten days. ***

Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Harvey were in Cathedral City this week entertaining Dr. Harvey's nephew and his wife, who are on the coast for a visit from their home in Pennsylvania. ***

F. E. Martell and Mrs. Martell were back in the village at their home preparatory to making a longer stay for the second chapter of their vacation. ***

Dr. E. H. Brandt is keeping the office of W. R. Hillery open during the few days Mr. Hillery is spending with his family in Hollywood. ***

SAN JACINTO MOUNTAINS, RIVERSIDE COUNTY'S OWN SUMMER PLAYGROUND

The beautiful San Jacinto Mountain resorts are easily reached over fine, paved mountain highways from all parts of Riverside county — lying entirely within the bounds of the county, the San Jacinto Mountain region is truly Riverside county's own summer playground.

With the advent of summer and the closing of schools, many families are now heading for the San Jacinto mountains, where the restfulness of early summer scented with pine and balsam awaits the vacationist.

No more beautiful spot can be found in which to spend a day, a week, or, if you are lucky, an entire summer. Nothing is left undone, either by man or nature, to cater to the hobbies and comfort of the vacationist. For the naturalist there are countless varieties of wild flowers, ferns and roses, and an endless procession of birds to study; for the athletically inclined vacationist, swimming, golf, archery, hikes and horseback riding.

For the man who likes to pit his skill against that of the wary fish, speckled trout dart temptingly through the clear, cold mountain streams.

And when night falls, the romanticist comes into his own. The moon appears in all its glory, and stars, the largest in all the world, twinkle merrily. Not to be outdone by these ageless friends of lovers everywhere, the owners of the famous hotels in the mountains have planned evening campfires and secured well-known orchestras and entertainers to keep everyone happy, until at last, tired out from a day full of activity, they creep off to their cabins nestling among the towering pines to join Morpheus for hours of restful slumber.

The friendly, hospitable people of the San Jacinto Mountain resorts invite you to visit them this summer. There is nothing too great or too small that they will not gladly do to help make your summer one that you will always remember.

The resorts of the San Jacinto mountains are Idyllwild, Fern Valley, Pine Cove, Saunders Meadow, Wildwood and Keen Camp.

Vacation expense money spent at these resorts remains in Riverside county to help business here.

The San Jacinto Mountain State Park Association was incorporated September 22, 1928, with A. C. Lovekin, president; A. E. Bottel, executive secretary; and Jonas Killian, treasurer; and with the executive board composed of the following: Dr. E. P. Clarke, A. Heber Winder, J. E. McGregor, J. R. Gabbert and A. C. Lovekin. There were thirty directors selected from Southern California.

The object of the Association is to "further the preservation, as a part of the State Park System, of the San Jacinto mountains; for their recreational, scientific, conservational, scenic and educational values."

The area within the park, purchased jointly by the county of Riverside and the State Park Commission, is 12,687.02 acres.

San Jacinto Peak is 10,805 feet above sea level.

This is the only State Park in the California system set aside as a wilderness area.

Good saddle trails have been, and are being, built into the higher valleys.

The San Jacinto Mountain State Park was dedicated to public use June 19, 1937.

FATHER'S DAY

There's something about Father's Day that should give most of us a bit of a guilty feeling. The world's most ardent holiday lovers, Americans almost ran out of dates on the calendar to celebrate this or that, before it was finally agreed to honor Dad for a day. Only five years ago the third Sunday in June was set aside for him.

Well, better late than never—and the date chosen is ideal. Many Dads have just finished a tough struggle of meeting the youngsters' school expenses, with perhaps the extras of graduation dresses and pins and parties. Many have just wangled a loan from the bank to help Junior, fresh out of college, get a start in his profession. And many are worrying over how to finance the family's vacation trip. About now, Dad surely needs a Day of his own!

A program to make him happy must be varied to suit each Dad. In general, though, he should be allowed to do as he pleases from dawn to dusk; golf all day, and maybe have the evening out with the boys; come home, if he chooses, late for dinner—or late for breakfast. Don't charge any gifts to his account. And don't, if you congratulate him from afar, send telegrams collect or reverse the phone charges on him!

Now that at last Father has a Day, it should be a real one. He'll be back in harness, you know, footing the bills and shouldering the worries, the day after!

THE BILLBOARD BLIGHT

If, as claimed, the city of Hemet has more than 3300 population, it's time for that Riverside county municipality to wash behind its ears.

Has it ever occurred to the people of Hemet that their town has more ugly billboards to the square block than any other city in the county? Entering Hemet from either the north or west, billboards obstruct the view of the valley and the mountains.

There are billboards across from the city park, opposite the school houses and across from or adjoining the better residences. One of the high city officials of Hemet is said to have a nice revenue from a vacant lot near the center of the city on which he rents space to a theatre for billboard advertising. What does the Hemet Woman's Club think of that? Or the Chamber of Commerce? Or the Hemet News?

Hemet's billboards make Hemet a cheap town.

Why a community that sponsors so beautiful a cultural enterprise as the Ramona Pageant spoils it all by letting the theatres and other billboard users make a "gas house district" of the whole city is difficult to understand.

Billboards not only destroy Hemet's beauty, but they destroy Hemet's property values as well.

Perhaps there are other towns in which the billboard situation is just as bad, but there are few that would be more attractive than Hemet if the billboards were not there.

ECONOMY BLOC MAKES BIG CUT

The economy bloc at Sacramento wasn't fooling when it began to get in its licks some months back. The free-spenders did a good deal of the talking, but when it came to a show-down they usually were unable to garner in the votes. Result was that the Senate cut the original state budget for the next two years by the neat sum of $88,500,000. Even so, the biennial budget still totals $468,500,000, which is a sum worth mentioning. Main cuts were made in unemployment relief appropriations—the friends of economy hold to the view that greater efficiency in administration and watchfulness in doling out the dollars will make it possible to adequately care for the deserving jobless at a reduced cost to the frenzied taxpayer.

CALIFORNIA CENTER OF REGULATORY ACTIVITY

"Partly by coincidence, but also possibly to some extent by design," says a Wall Street Journal reporter, "the Pacific coast and particularly California is at the moment, a focal center of punitive and regulatory federal activity in business directions." The pending petroleum investigation, plus the action against the newsprint makers, helps make California "the scene of an unusual number of regulatory and punitive movements."

"Desert Steve" Turns Author

Desert Steve Ragsdale, owner of Desert Center where he has a standing offer to anyone, of board and lodging for every day the sun doesn't shine, has turned author, and this week to the Desert Sun office came a small booklet written by him. The book is called "We American Voters Demand True Americanism," and it is written in the quaint style of this well known desert character. The cover is red, white and blue and has on the front a picture of the author and a large American flag.

From cover to cover the book is a scathing rebuke to the Roosevelt administration and "New Dealism." The names of some of the chapters will give an idea of the contents of the book: "Social Security Bushwah," "Bootleg Boozie Today," "Old Maid Perkins Secretary of Labor," "Kicking Votes Out of Professional Hitch-Hikers," "The Dust Bowl Fifty Years Before the Dole" and "Cause and Cure of the Dirty Deal."

Work is being rushed on the building, so it will be ready for the opening of the academy July 15.

Capitol Comment

By ASSEMBLYMAN NELSON S. DILWORTH

Sacramento, June 15.—The Assembly feels that the Administration should limit its new activity to what can be financed from the steadily increasing yield of present taxes. New tax laws are usually voted down.

John Gee Clark, Norman Church, Ralph Evans, Richard Olson, and six others, all members of the Governor's official family, were present in the Assembly Chamber the other evening when we were voting on new tax levies. Speaking of pressure lobbies, I have never seen it equaled before.

The new director of the relief administration has been in office five months and has not yet produced the often promised tangible program for handling relief. So far we have given him twenty-three millions without any strings. Now he asks seventy-three millions to use almost as he sees best. We are beginning to fear that the relief administration has no plan except cash dole and subsidized production for use competition with taxpayers.

One day last week the Senate was under a call on a contested vote. The doors were locked and a sergeant-at-arms stationed at the doors to let out employees or admit senators as they were brought in. When his back was turned, someone slipped the key out of the door and for a few minutes the Senate was really locked up.

Adjournment has been voted for the twentieth. I am ready to come home any day that we finish our work.

HOSTESS FOR TOURNAMENT OF LIGHTS SELECTED

Balboa, June 15.—Jeanne Cabanne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sarpy Cabanne of Balboa Island was selected as the girl having the most charm and poise from among five contestants to serve as official hostess for the 1939 Balboa Tournament of Lights.

Judging was held recently at the Tournament of Lights headquarters on Balboa Island. Acting as judges were Marjorie Lyon, Tournament of Lights publicity director, Mayor Harry Williamson and Myron Burns of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club.

Other contestants who ran Miss

Cabanne a close race for the honor were Patricia Palmer, Marilyn Hostetler, Christine Phoenix and Patricia Webster. The contest was limited to girls of the Newport Harbor Union high school while the contest for "Queen Titania" who will rule over the brilliant pageant is being conducted in high schools throughout Southern California.

Announcement was made today by Miss Lyon that seven entries have been received in the queen contest and several more are expected. They include Verna Martin, 16, student of the Pomona high school, Jewell Monroe, 15, student at the Vista high school; Janet Hatch, Santa Monica high school; Florence Jordan, Vista high school; Kathleen Burkhard, Fullerton junior college; Ethel Babcock, Carpinteria; and Katherine Holden, Los Angeles.

Judges for the queen contest will be Paul A. Palmer of Lido Isle, Ray Duncan of the Long Beach Press-Telegram, C. W. Hoiles of the Santa Ana Register, T. N. Gaines of the Los Angeles Times and Miss Marjorie Lyon.

"Who are those people who are cheering?" asked the recruit as the soldiers marched to the train. "Those," replied the veteran, "are the people who are not going."

Nothing annoys a woman like having her friends drop in unexpectedly to find the house looking as it usually does.

SUN SPOTS

By CARL BARKOW

A new doctrine is about to sweep the world, and you may expect to hear a great deal about it during the months and years to come. No, it isn't exactly new—it is as old as Christianity—but it is new to this period. It is known as "Moral Re-Armament, The Battle for Peace."

Sounds like the text of a sermon to which you would expect to listen, half asleep, dwelling only on the preacher's diction and forgetting all about it with the benediction.

No, it is something so vital and so compelling that newspapers throughout the world have accepted the challenge and are urging their nations to adopt the program in all its details for the sake of humanity everywhere. Yes, it's propaganda, but the holiest and grandest propaganda we've heard since before that fateful day when the nations of Europe started to destroy each other.

A group of prominent journalists of Great Britain recently wrote to the "Newspaper World":

"We, the undersigned, pledge ourselves to work unceasingly for Moral Re-Armament, and thus build 'Bridges from man to man The whole round world to span.'"

I just received a booklet containing editorials and special articles on this subject from newspapers published in all parts of the world—from all the nations of Europe—yes, even from Germany, Italy and Russia, Asia and Africa. Accompanying the book, came the following letter:

Los Angeles, Calif.,

"One of the most enlightened and encouraging world movements in recent years is that referred to as 'Moral Re-Armament.'"

"Whether or not it has a chance to succeed in this day of uncertainty, depends very largely upon the interest shown in it by the general public.

"The enclosed booklet, edited by 'Bunny' Austin, the English tennis ace, contains the published opinions of well-known leaders throughout the world, including Wilhelm, Queen of the Netherlands, and Herbert Hoover, former President of the United States.

"In the belief that you will be personally interested in reading these opinions, and perhaps commenting upon them, for the benefit of your subscribers, we are sending you this copy.

Moral Re-Armament is simply a world-wide revival. It means that each individual must first clean his own house, must first learn to live at peace with his own family and his neighbors—for as the individual thinks and acts, so acts the nation. Strangely, the active Moral Re-Armament started in the sporting world, with Bunny Austin one of the leaders, who was inspired by published letters in the press from the clergy and members of parliament, chief among them a letter from Lord Baldwin, containing the following paragraphs:

"The strength of a nation," he stated, "consists in the vitality of her principles. Policy, foreign as well as domestic, is for every nation ultimately determined by the character of her people and the inspiration of her leaders; by the acceptance in their lives and in their policy of honesty, faith and love as the foundations on which a new world may be built. Without these qualities, the strongest armaments, the most elaborate pacts, only postpone the hour of reckoning.

"The real need of the day is therefore moral and spiritual rearmament. A growing body of people in this and other countries and of all races, are called to share and have power to help. We were, together with our fellow men everywhere, to put the energy and resourcefulness into this task that we now find ourselves obliged to expend on national defense, the peace of the world would be assured."

This newspaper will have more to say about "Moral Re-Armament." It applies to our every

Neeley Edwards, Well Known Here, Buys Motel

Neeley Edwards, who was the master of ceremonies at "The Drunkard" production held at the El Paseo Theatre here for a number of weeks during the 1937-38 season, has purchased the Blue Top Motel in Banning, and he and Mrs. Edwards (Marguerite Snow) are now operating the attractive 12-unit bungalow court.

Lee Moran, well known member of the Moran and Mack "Two Black Crows" fame, is also spending the summer at a motel in Banning.

Mr. Edwards won fame as Percy Hallroom in the Hallroom Boys, when he and Ed Flanagan were partners. At the Texas Centennial in 1936 he was awarded first prize as the most popular entertainer at that Exposition. At that time he was the master of ceremonies in the Showboat production "The Drunkard." He has covered the United States and Canada more often than he can remember and he can't count the number of times he has appeared in some of the nation's foremost theatres.

He started his vaudeville career with the Four Mortons, who presented an act called "Breaking Into Society." Next he joined an aggregation known as the Bowery Burlesquers, from which had come earlier such footlight stars as David Warfield and George Reban. Then he went to Broadway in musical comedy and was featured in "What Next?", "Town Topics," "Up in the Air" and a number of others. Most of his career, however, was spent in big time Keith and Orpheum vaudeville, as a member of the world famous team of Flanagan and Edwards, who gagged, sang and danced 15 years before Flanagan passed away in 1925. He then became a successful motion picture actor for eight years, and was a featured comedian in Universal productions and the original production of "Showboat."

His last active season on the screen was in 1938 when he was cast in RKO-Radio's "Diplomats" and Universal's "Love, Honor, and Oh, Baby."

Neeley Edwards voluntarily retired from the screen in the first "Drunkard" show, which is still running in the larger cities.

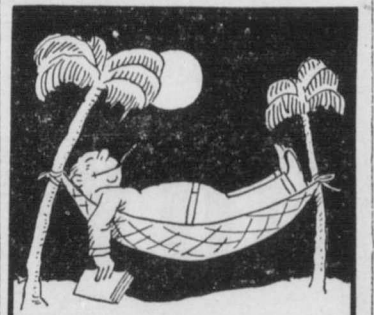

Mrs. Edwards, whose stage and screen name is Marguerite Snow, was a foremost star of early silent motion pictures in the serial "The Million Dollar Mystery," and also as "Poor Mrs. Wilson" in the play of the same name. She is a very charming lady and is assisting her husband in managing the Blue Top Motel.

Mr. Edwards has a very beautiful daughter, Marcelle, who is also a screen star. She married the multi-millionaire playboy, Tommy Manville, scion of the Manville family of Johns-Manville Company.

Notification of 1939 acreage allotments have been mailed from the county office in Riverside during the past few weeks to all individual farms in the county except orchards. These allotments apply to 1939 crops which are harvested this year. Compliance with these acreage allotments results in payments under the 1939 Agricultural Conservation program, in addition to credit for soil-building practices such as cover cropping, new alfalfa, erosion control, etc. General soil-depleting allotments include such crops as barley, oat-hay, commercial vegetables, grain sorghums, and other soil-depleting crops, not including cotton, wheat, and potatoes which are given special consideration.

The purpose of these allotments is to encourage a normal production of soil-depleting crops that will result in fair prices to farmers. It is believed that over-production has resulted in low prices.

MYRNA LOY AND ROBERT TAYLOR TOGETHER FOR THE FIRST TIME IN "LUCKY NIGHT" STARTING SUNDAY

MYRNA LOY AND ROBERT TAYLOR

Bringing a sensational new romantic-comedy team to the screen, "Lucky Night" co-starring Myrna Loy and Robert Taylor, is the outstanding attraction coming Sunday to the Banning Theatre.

Taylor portrays the role of an out-of-luck playboy who meets Miss Loy on a park bench while both are looking for jobs. Myrna has fled from a fourth engagement to a man she didn't want to marry. The pair team forces, panhandle fifty cents, pyramid it into thousands by lucky playing, hit the night spots, get into tight spots and find, after wild and "lucky night," that they've been married. Thereafter they face the serious business of life, leading to further hilarious complications, separation, and eventual reconciliation.

In the supporting cast is a picked list of funmakers, among whom are Joseph Allen, Henry O'Neill, Douglas Fowley, Bernard Nedell, Charles Lane, Bernard Hayes, Gladys Blake, Marjorie Main, Edward Gargan, Irving Bacon and Oscar O'Shea.

The second feature will be "The Flying Irishman" with Douglas "Wrong Way" Corrigan, Paul Kelly, Robert Armstrong and Eddie Quillan.

Speed Under 40 Miles An Hour Cuts Fatalities in Half

TERRIFYING though it may sound, there is no escaping the fact that every automobile is a potential killer, once its wheels begin to roll. And the faster the wheels turn, so does the grin on Death's face grow wider—for Death lurks everywhere along the highway, flapping his black shroud as he speeds along.

There is one definitely established fact in the relationship between speed and safety, writes J. C. Furnas in his article "Speed Limit" in the April Good Housekeeping, and that is that accidents resulting in death occur less than half as often in cars traveling under 40 miles an hour as in cars whose speed is between 40 and 50. And speed over 50 miles an hour means that death will strike in one accident out of every eleven.

Being a woman, Mr. Furnas says, you may be exempt from some of the speed impulses that come over men. Figures do show that the average speed of women drivers is several miles slower than that of men; but modern cars being what they are, slick and insidious in pickup, the woman driver is often equally guilty of the most cardinal of all speed sins—speeding in excess of driving conditions. That is, driving too fast for your own skill under adverse conditions, such as a skiddy road, night driving, poor visibility around curves, an old car, etc.

Speed zoning is an excellent precaution, says the author. With maps, charts, photographs and mileage records before them, traffic engineers survey the whole main highway system of a state, mark off all dangerous stretches, and figure out the top safe speeds for each. That speed is then marked on roadside signs.

Pennsylvania not long ago enforced a 50-mile limit all over the state. Since that limit went into effect, motoring deaths have decreased 40 percent. The answer may lie partly in the fact that violators are deprived of their licenses for three months; if so, fear of incurring the penalty is just what the doctor ordered.

More people believe that the faster they drive their car the more mileage they get per gallon. On the contrary, the writer points out, a light modern car in good shape goes about 20 miles to the gallon at 30 miles an hour. The same car, at 60 miles an hour, gets less than 16 to the gallon. Oil-consumption figures are even of greater disproportion. A car uses almost seven times as much oil at 55 miles an hour than at 30.

So, Mr. Furnas concludes, if the risk of death doesn't worry the careless, reckless driver, thrift ought to make him listen that speeds over 50 are an expensive waste—and make, for every time he increases his speed he shoots up depreciation costs.

Glasses Can Be Flattering

EVERY fifth person in the United States wears glasses. There being over 60,000,000 women in the country, it stands that 12,000,000 of them wear glasses—and without exception all think they have two strikes on them from the start. Ruth Murrin, head of the Good Housekeeping Beauty Clinic, doesn't agree. After studying scores of cases, she finds that frequently glasses are actually flattering, and in the April issue of the magazine tells why. To help overcome that feeling of looking "glassy," Miss Murrin lists a few simple Do's and Don'ts.

DO'S

Do give your skin superlative care. It takes a good complexion to live up to the shiny trimness of glasses.

Do arrange your hair softly around your face, avoiding both severity and fussiness.

Do strive for smartness in your coiffure. An up-to-date hair-do counteracts any tendency to appear old-maidish. Be sure to get an upward sweep at your temples.

Do remember that glasses make a strong horizontal effect, flattering to a long face, not flattering to a broad face. In the latter case, correct the widening effect by building your hair up on top, keeping it close at the sides, arching your eyebrows slightly, tilting your hatbrim to one side.

Do take infinite pains with your make-up, cleaning your face and renewing your beautifiers several times a day.

Do blend your rouge off imperceptibly under your glasses, avoiding any hard line, and not outlining the lower rim of the lenses.

Do make your eyes important with eye shadow and mascara, and make up your mouth beautifully.

DON'T'S

Don't neglect your skin. Shiny glasses put the spotlight on a muddy complexion.

Don't skin your hair back in plain-Jane fashion.

Don't let your hair fall straight down at the sides.

Don't permit it to become oily, stringy, and flat. Glasses emphasize untidy hair, and vice versa.

Don't wear low bangs, or dips over your forehead, or push your hair forward on your temples in the effort to cover your glasses. This only concentrates attention on them.

Don't let your eyebrows become bushy or weedy-looking.

Don't be afraid to make up your eyes.

Don't go without cheek rouge unless your skin is beautifully tinted by nature.

Don't wear tiny hats or off-the-face hats unless they have a soft rolled rim.

Don't wear broad hats with horizontal lines unless your face is unusually long.

Don't wear metal hat ornaments, fancy earrings, and glittering necklaces. They make you look overdecorated, and nobody sees the nice you in back of the glitter.

The Public's Health

By R. L. KAUFMAN, M. D.
County Health Officer

Choosing a maid servant for the household, whether for cooking, housework, or taking care of the baby, is a task which should be undertaken with the greatest of study. The ordinary housewife is very particular about asking for references from previous employers. She also makes a mental note of the applicant's personal appearance and neatness. If she finds these particulars to her liking, she hires the servant.

Nothing is said about the health of the maid or nurse. All too often, this important question is completely left out of the picture. No check is made of the freedom from infectious diseases, which may easily be carried to members of the family, to the baby perhaps.

Some time ago, the health department took over the supervision of a certain family, in which one member had active tuberculosis. There was one high school age daughter in this family who did not live at home. She was taking care of a baby in another family, and living with them. We informed her parents that she would have to be examined for tuberculosis, inasmuch as she was a direct contact of the active case in her own family.

At first the parents refused to have her examined, even though it was to be at no cost to them. However, when it was explained to them that she may be infected, and might be a menace to the baby she was caring for, they consented. Everything turned out well, as she was found to be free from tuberculosis.

But all instances do not turn out so nicely. What might have occurred if she were infected and had passed the disease on to the baby? There are some instances where innocent children have been infected with gonorrhea of the eyes, due to some maid who possibly did not know she had the disease.

Typhoid fever is another disease which may be passed on by those who cook and serve food. The classic example of "Typhoid Mary" is well known to all. Wherever this cook went, she infected her employers with typhoid, until finally she had to be isolated and forcibly kept from society.

Servants are no more prone to illnesses than others. However, it is to the advantage of all prospective employers to request a health card from all applicants for a position in the home. This should show that the person had recently been examined by a physician and been found to be free from contagious disease. North Carolina passed a law a few years ago requiring all domestic servants to present a health card to all prospective employers before asking for a position. This act was aimed specifically at tuberculosis and syphilis. But such a law would not be necessary if people were aware of this problem, and demanded health cards from all applicants.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

These words of Paul to the Corinthians, "To us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things and we in him," are the Golden Text in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The question, "Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject.

A Bible selection in the Lesson-Sermon presents these verses about Jesus from the Gospel according to Mark: "And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils. And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and said unto him, I will; be thou clean. And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed."

One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy includes the statements: "When man is governed by God, the ever present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible. The only way to this living Truth, which heals the sick, is found in the Science of divine Mind as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus."

GAS TO BE PIPED TO 11 ADDITIONAL DISTRICTS NEAR LAKE ARROWHEAD

Southern California Gas Company plans immediate construction of a pipeline, costing approximately $158,000 to serve home owners in eleven additional districts in the Lake Arrowhead area, providing satisfactory rights of way can be secured, according to William P. Hand, division manager of the company here. These include Crestline, Skyland, Valley of Enchantment, Valley View Tracts Nos. 1 and 2, Clifton Heights, Arrowhead Highlands, Alpine Glenn, and Government Tracts of Grand View, Horseshoe Bend, Strawberry and Mile High.

It is likely that the new pipeline will be completed within thirty days after construction starts.

"A large number of residents in these districts already have signed up for natural gas service," Mr. Hand said, "and for the added convenience of home owners the company has established an office at Crestline where applications may be made. Also, crews of men are now in the field who are signing up residents at their homes. Applications for service also may be secured at any gas company office."

Mr. Hand pointed out that, while all these communities will have gas service available upon completion of the new pipeline and installation of meters and services, service to any specific street will depend upon the number of homes on that particular street.

Excellent Fishing in Bear Creek and Big Bear Lake

With all fishing reports from the entire San Bernardino mountain area telling of limits caught, the fishing season at Big Bear Lake so far has been highly successful. Fishing at Arrowhead is also good. Green Valley Lake is good, while at Big Bear the fishing this season has been better than in the past few years. Reports of trout 20 to 24 inches in length have come from Big Bear. Slim Ball, well known resident of Big Bear Lake was seen recently with a 6½ lb. trout, while Boyde Lehman, Big Bear grammar school principal, has been able to come in with many a limit of trout this spring.

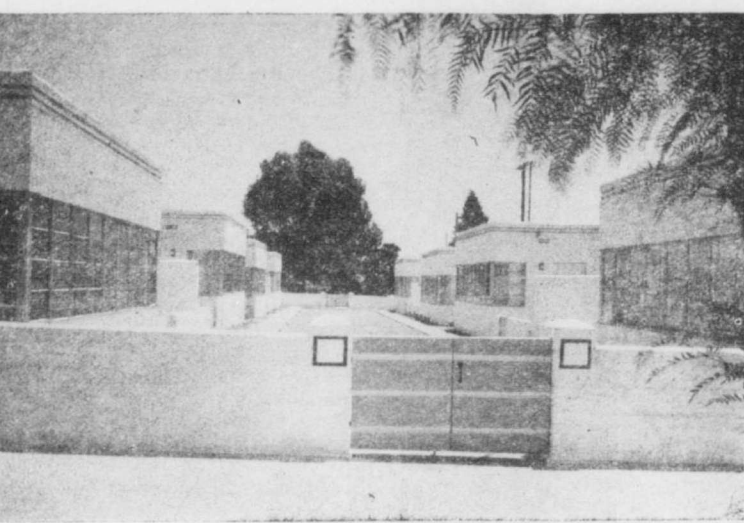

Fred A. Steele, of Bear Creek Lodge, reports trout fishing in Bear Creek perfect, with some trout as large as 20 inches having been taken. Mr. Steele says that fishing conditions in Bear Creek at the present time are better than any time in the past two years. The best spots are from the dam, down stream not more than one mile, he stated.

Almost anyone who has been in Idyllwild during the past 14 years has heard of Jerry Johnson, and most Idyllwild visitors have seen or met him, for Mr. Johnson is the man you contact to find out who lives where, "can you tell me where Strawberry Lane is?" and such; and, invariably, he knows the answers.

Mr. Johnson has been buying and selling real estate in Idyllwild for the past 14 years, during which time he has made the mountain resort his home, both winter and summer. He has been associated with the real estate department of Idyllwild, Inc., for the past five years.

Within the past three months Mr. Johnson, in addition to his agency for the Hartford Insurance Co., has taken over two other insurance agencies — Fire, Association and Continental.

He has bought a large number of lots upon many of which he has erected cabins—renting some, selling others. He has one attractive cabin under construction at present, and recently purchased five lots upon each of which he plans immediate building.

Mr. Johnson owns a great deal of improved property at Idyllwild, including joint ownership with Mrs. Anna Poates of the Rustic building in which is housed the Rustic Tavern, Rustic Pharmacy, a bakery, and a beauty shop.

One of his most recent ventures is an interest in the Idyllwild Motor Company, of which he is president. The company owns

THE SKYLIGHT

By TOM HUGHES

A picture in the paper of a noted race horse and its trainer. The horse is as beautiful as the trainer is homely. Come to think of it, have I ever seen a regular horse trainer who wasn't homely?

From there I go on to wondering what an inhabitant of Mars, for instance, would say about that picture. I'm guessing he would take the horse to be the superior creature of the two.

Look at any picture of man and horse, or even of woman and horse, and if you're fairly honest I believe you'll admit that the horse has stolen the picture. Let the man or woman be world renowned, and still the horse steals the picture.

My own feeling is that a horse is the noblest member of the animal kingdom, and that his head is one of nature's finest anatomical jobs. Suppose you had never seen a horse, and someone described for you a quadruped that had a long head with eyes near the edges, ears on one end, mouth on the other. What a mental picture you would draw! To save your life you couldn't work out half so artistic an arrangement as nature has fashioned for Dobbin.

Moreover, I wish that all of us human folks, along with our vaunted power of reason, had the serene, proud, self-sufficient grace of character that the humblest nag possesses. (I'd be proud, too, if I carried about me the subtle fragrance that Dobbin does. It's probably silly, this notion of mine that every horse bears within him a spark of grandeur handed down from little Eohippus, who must have seen astounding sights and learned unbelievable things in the days and nights when the world was young).

How fast do mountains grow? You probably have heard that they do grow.

Take our own San Jacinto. When the first white men came to San Geronimo Pass the peak was almost exactly two miles above the desert and 9800 feet above the Snow Creek wash. But with every publicity boost it added a little to its stature. At first it was the tallest above its base in the United States, soon the tallest in America, next it was two miles above Snow creek, and finally it was proclaimed "the world's highest stone wall." Future boosters can't do any more than that, unless they take in the mountains of the moon.

I notice that Mt. Tacoma, too, is putting on height. A recent travel ad says it rises two miles above the clouds. The ad writer played safe, of course, in the case of low clouds, and if the clouds are high, nobody can tell.

It seems the American language can be made to fit our mountains like a zipper fits a fat man.

CITY OFFICIALS WILL ATTEND MEETING

Several of the city officials will attend the meeting of the League of Municipalities at Highland Springs, Friday evening, with Beaumont as hosts.

State Executive Secretary Richard Graves and Attorney Louis Burke of the League will be the speakers.

FIRESTONE SALES HEAD GETS AWARD

H. D. Tompkins Completes Twenty Years of Service

At testimonial dinner in his honor attended by Firestone department heads and sales executives from the Eleven Western States, H. D. Tompkins, Sales Manager for the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. of California was recently presented with a watch and twenty-year service pin by R. J. Cope, President of the organization.

In commenting on the presentation, Cope said, "During Mr. Tompkins' long association with our company, his activity, ability and personal popularity have made for him countless close friends in automotive circles in almost every city and town on the Pacific Coast, and I am sure they join with me in extending heartiest congratulations."

Tompkins started with the Firestone Company in 1919, as a general line salesman. His exceptional sales ability and likeable personality soon won him advancement to more important posts. In January, 1929 he became special Pacific Coast representative for the truck tire division, and in April, 1935 became Sales Manager, succeeding Leonard Firestone, who was called East to fill an important position in Firestone's Home Office at Akron, Ohio.

DESERT BURROS ACCORDED VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

The California legislature gave the desert burro a vote of confidence Thursday.

The senate joined the assembly in approving a bill which Senator Ralph E. Swing, San Bernardino, said would determine whether the animals were doomed to extinction, an Associated Press dispatch from Sacramento said. The measure would prohibit their slaughter for animal food.

Once widely used by mining prospectors, Senator Swing said they had been forsaken for the most part in favor of "tin lizzies."

Recently Sheriff Emmett L. Shay of San Bernardino county conducted an investigation into the alleged "rounding up" of wild burros on the desert by employees of an animal food factory.

Good Reason to Stop!

Solons Hit Importing of Relief Executives

"Importations" of relief administration executives from surrounding counties to take Riverside county jobs was criticized Monday by the Riverside County Board of Supervisors.

In a resolution directed to Governor Olson, WPA Administrator Herbert Legg and SRA Administrator Dewey Anderson, the supervisors ask that preference be given hereafter to Riverside county employees in hiring persons for executive positions in the WPA and SRA organizations in this county.

Two instances were cited by the supervisors as examples: the importation of a San Bernardino man as WPA operations engineer (displacing a man previously brought here from Santa Barbara county) and the bringing in of a San Bernardino resident as head of the county housekeeping project of the SRA.

MIDGET RACES FRIDAY AT SAN BERNARDINO

The mighty midget's will roar again on Friday night when mid-gut auto racing usurps the spotlight at the San Bernardino County Sports Stadium. A 40-lap main event heads Friday's program. Speed Baker, king of the throttle stompers who is now leading in the point standing race toward the Western states championship, will have a busy night trying to protect his lead. With such stars as Don Farmer, Gib Lili, Pete Naccarato, Dick Ferguson, Claude Herrick and Bob Breeding the San Diego champion vieing for honors speed has plenty to worry about.

ASSEMBLY NOD GIVEN BILL ON PEACH MOSAIC

The bill that would appropriate $45,000 to reimburse peach growers for trees that the state removes in its campaign against mosaic disease, was voted Tuesday by the state assembly, 58 to 16.

Assemblyman Gordon W. Corwin of Redlands, sponsor of the measure, succeeded in obtaining a favorable vote on the measure after the first vote had fallen short of approval. It takes 54 favorable votes to get an appropriation measure through the assembly. The first vote was 46 to 25.

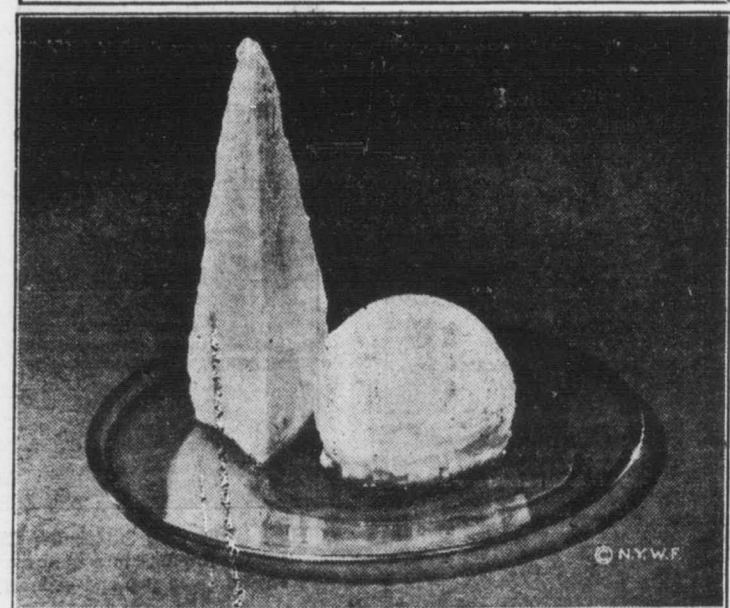

Corwin, making a plea in behalf of peach growers in Yucap and other Southern California districts, called for a roll call on the measure following the first vote. The result was 58 favorable votes against 16 unfavorable. Corwin said that the measure will go before the senate finance committee today and will be presented by Senator Ralph Swing of San Bernardino, who is a member. Deputy District Attorney Albert Weller will leave immediately for Sacramento to represent the county's peach growers in obtaining a favorable vote in the senate.

The bill would indemnify peach growers at the rate of $1.50 per tree.

The president called his office manager in and thrust a letter under his nose.

"Look at that! I thought I told you to engage a new stenographer on the basis of her grammar!" The office manager looked startled. "Grammar? I thought you said glamor."

Tylon and Perisphere Dessert

By BETTY BARCLAY

As modern as "The World of Tomorrow" itself! And so up-to-the-minute that your guests shower you with exciting compliments on your cleverness!

Here is a novel cake-and-ice cream miniature of the giant Tylon and Perisphere which tower over the great New York World's Fair, and you can be first in your crowd to serve them. These amazing buildings leave an indelible impression on every visitor to this vast, colorful spectacle. And this easy, delicious, appealing treat is sure to make just such an impression on your party guests!

Here are the necessary directions:

Almond Ice Cream
2 packages vanilla powdered freezing mix
2 cups cold milk
½ teaspoon almond extract
2 cups whipping cream
Whip cold whipping cream in a bowl until it holds its shape — no more. Add powdered freezing mix to cold milk, beat with egg beater until smooth. Mix thoroughly with whipped cream without beating. Stir in almond extract. Pour into freezing tray. Place tray in freezing compartment and freeze until firm but mellow — about 3 hours. To serve, dip out with scoop or shape into balls with tablespoon. Serve with apricot sauce. Makes about 3 pints.

Apricot Sauce
¼ lb. dried apricots (¾ cup)
2 cups water
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup light corn syrup
Pinch salt

Wash apricots thoroughly, removing any dark spots. Put in saucepan with the water, cover, and slowly bring to boil; simmer until very tender, about 1 hour. Rub through sieve, with cooking water. There should be about 1½ cups puree and juice; add enough water to make 2 cups. Add remaining ingredients, bring to boil, and boil 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Makes about 2 cups.

To Make Tylon
Choose close-textured butter cake such as pound cake. Cut into three-sided pyramids about 5 inches tall, having as bases equilateral triangles with 1½ to 2 inch sides. Frost with 7-minute frosting to which a few drops of lemon juice have been added to make it spread easily. To frost easily, lay trylons on waxed paper and frost 2 sides in this position; when dry, turn and frost third side.

Colorado River Water Now Pouring Into Hayfield Reservoir

The water delivered through the Colorado River aqueduct must be lifted across the divide separating the Colorado River watershed from the coastal plain area where the water is to be used. The total pumping lift is 1617 feet, divided among five pumping plants located at favorable sites along the aqueduct between a Parker reservoir on the Colorado river and Shaver Summit about forty miles east of Indio. In their order beginning at the Colorado river, the average pumping heads at the various plants are as follows: Intake, 294 feet; Gene, 310 feet; Iron Mountain, 146 feet; Eagle Mountain, 440 feet; and Hayfield, 444 feet.

The ultimate quantity of water to be pumped, 1500 cubic feet per second, together with the high lift and the total horsepower requirement of about 375,000, all combine to constitute a pumping problem of greater magnitude than ever heretofore undertaken. There are some existing installations of larger capacity, but for very low lifts; also of higher lifts, but of low capacity; and there are in Europe a few single pumping units with both higher heads and capacities. In the United States, however, no pumps have been built which combine the high lift and high capacity required for the aqueduct.

Crowds jammed every corner of Treasure Island on opening day and the days that followed, to set a world's record for Exposition attendance, with more than 500,000 paying customers going through the turnstiles in the first eight days of the California World's Fair on Treasure Island. Here are a few of the visitors in the Court of the Seven Seas, with the giant statue, Pacifica, far in the distance.

Flower With Personality Plus

By BETTY BARCLAY

A large percentage of gardeners would agree to labeling the pansy as the flower with personality plus. In appearance, it packs as much wallop as any other flower. Study the picture above, for a minute. Some think the pansies here look like kittens, or like squirrels, or like pickaninies — and some think they look just like pansies.

Like other "personalities," pansies are easier to get along with when you know their peculiarities. Extensive tests at the Ferry-Morse Seed Breeding Station show that the pansy is the best "mud-horse" in the floral sweepstakes. It likes a moist soil and should be watered regularly for best results. The pansy likes it cool, too, and the cooling action of evaporation of moisture benefits its growth. The pansy may be likened also to the Apache dancers who are thrown about so recklessly on the stage. The pansy will do well by you even though roughly treated, but it cannot stand being ignored. In other words, the pansy will stand an unusual amount of mauling during transplanting, because its spreading root system is not harmed by a bit of pruning. But once planted, it must be well tended. Its flowers should be picked often or it will cease blooming long before the end of summer. It should have rich soil; and, as stated above, it needs abundant moisture.

NEW OPERATORS OF ALESSANDRO MAKE MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT THAT FAMOUS HOSTELRY

HOTEL ALESSANDRO

In the Hemet Valley (home of the well-known Ramona Pageant), at the foot of beautiful, majestic Mount San Jacinto, is a unique hotel of unusual distinction—the famous Alessandro.

Outwardly the Alessandro has the romantic appearance of an Indian pueblo; yet within its rough adobe walls is a modern hotel with every convenience for the guest's comfort and enjoyment.

Rooms are spacious and attractively furnished, each with outside exposure and private bath; the lobby is most interesting, with its massive stone fireplace and authentic Indian relics; the dining room and coffee shop are noted for excellent cuisine.

Located at an elevation of 1800 feet and so situated as to receive the full benefit of the sea breezes, summer nights at the Alessandro are cool and the days are pleasantly warm.

Among the many attractions available in the immediate surrounding territory are golf, riding, swimming, mineral baths and fishing.

On the roof of the hotel have been installed the last word in ultra-violet sun cabinets—a combination that will bring new sparkle and vitality to the nervous and physically exhausted.

In April of this year the Alessandro was leased for a period of ten years by Alex H. Nord, well known Palm Springs hotel man who operates the El Morocco Hotel at the famous winter resort, and Ernie Warmbrodt, also an experienced and well known hotel operator.

Today, June 15, the new "Indian" cocktail lounge at the Alessandro, will be officially opened.

The "Indian" room highlights the list of many improvements at the Alessandro made by Nord and Warmbrodt. Chief A. C. Blue Eagle, noted Choctaw Indian painter, and Jack Schurch, Palm Springs artist, did the fine murals. Mr. Nord stated this week that he wishes to personally invite his many friends from Palm Springs and other portions of Riverside county to visit the improved Alessandro and the new "Indian" lounge.

A visit to the Alessandro, whether it be for a day, week or longer, is a treat that will truly long be remembered.

Highland Springs Is Modern Spa

Said to be one of California's most modern spa, beautiful Highland Springs resort at the foot of the mountains between Banning and Beaumont is easily reached from all parts of Riverside county and affords the residents of this county an ideal spot for rest, relaxation and recreation. The hotel is conducted on the American plan.

The elevation of Highland Springs is 3000 feet above sea level, and in this healthful climate mineral baths are of great value in the treatment of many ailments. Many kinds of baths are given under the expert supervision of trained attendants.

At Highland Springs, right at the door of Southern Californians, may be found luxurious, modern, health giving mineral baths, scientifically planned, comfortable and sanitary in every detail, that compare favorably with famed European health spas. The baths are unusually distinctive in design.

All Highland Springs baths are of the spacious, Roman type, beautifully tiled and lavishly decorated with murals. Individual rooms assure the guest of utmost privacy. The interesting idea of color-therapy plays an important part in this modern bath establishment. A listless or exhausted feeling of lowered vitality is readily stimulated in a bath dominated by scintillating vermillion, while a person suffering from over-wrought nerves or in a highly excitable condition is soothed and relaxed by the coolness of sky-blue, it is said.

Highland Springs is not a sanitarium. The aim of the management is to supplement the work of the personal physician, never to usurp it. Baths are recommended only in cases where their use is likely to prove beneficial. A special diet kitchen caters to individual requirements.

The resort is located two miles north of U. S. Highway 99 between Banning and Beaumont.

lute sanitation is the by-word at Armstrong's.

The dairy has 36 employees, representing a large payroll.

The Armstrong Dairy strives at all times to maintain the highest standards of quality and service. The "Dacro Protected" emblem on their milk means complete protection at every point along the line from the farm right into the home. The special Dacro bottle and cap used by Armstrong's prevents any chance of contamination during handling and delivery.

The dairy has 200 fine milk cows.

Armstrong's Dairy Features the New Dacro Bottle

Serving daily Beaumont, Banning, Palm Springs and the Coachella Valley with its fleet of nine modern milk trucks, the Armstrong Dairy of Beaumont is considered one of the finest in Southern California. It has served this region for 15 years.

The Armstrong Dairy is modern in every respect, using only the newest, most up-to-date dairy equipment and methods. Also—

Early Start on Beaumont Link of Road Assured

Assurance that Beaumont's new state highway link will be started soon was reported to the Redlands Chamber of Commerce directors at their breakfast session in La Posada cafe Tuesday.

Byron N. Scott, secretary of the state highway commission, is represented by a letter declaring that "we are working with all possible speed" to complete the Beaumont project, which the Redlands boosters have urged upon the state department.

"Every effort will be made to expedite the early advertisement of this job," said Scott's letter.

Construction of the new state highway route through Beaumont is expected to give Redlands and Riverside an even chance at traffic from the East. Redlands has feared that any delay in the project might result in Riverside county's construction of a cutoff leading traffic from Highway 99 to the Jackrabbit Trail.

A Glance Over Riverside County

HEMET

Fire thought to have started from weeds which were being burned off by the caretaker, Frank Holtzclaw, at 12:40 p. m., Thursday, totally destroyed a 24-room residence known as the Mandigo place which was built nearly a quarter of a century ago as one of the show places of the Hemet valley. The structure was located about four miles west of Hemet, near the highway.

SAN JACINTO

The San Jacinto valley was invaded at the end of last week by instructors, advisers and others interested in improving the quality of dried apricots. Prospects of a big and fine crop throughout the valley this year, and little danger of production elsewhere point to livelier markets and better prices, and the growers are leaving nothing undone which might bring about the desired result.

ELSINORE

Army engineers from March Field post have been working in the Elsinore valley this week on a road survey which is part of a reported project of surveying all major highways of any value to military forces from the Oregon border to the international border of Mexico. The surveying party has started at bench marks located at different spots in the valley, and have made an extensive survey of the principal arteries.

INDIO

Representing a company which places coin-operated amusement devices, Harmon Brown addressed the council Wednesday night in opposition to the present monthly license charge of $5 per machine. Following his talk the council directed City Attorney Wallace P. Rouse to prepare an amendment to the present ordinance making the license on all coin-operated musical devices $150 per year for the first machine and $5 per year each for all others placed by the same company, and for other coin-operated devices, including marble games and counter machines, the licenses to be $200 per year for the first and $10 per year for each additional machine. These fees are to be paid annually in advance.

BLYTE

Blythe saw its first strike in the history of the community early Thursday morning when some 40 Arizona bound trucks were held up there pending settlement of a dispute between truck operators and union drivers of trucks which travel in Arizona. Almost 100 truck drivers met in a conference at Gallardo's Blythe Pavilion at noon, and decided to return to the job, pending the outcome of a conference at Los Angeles between trucking companies, and union drivers.

The trouble is said to have originated over the fact that truck companies had not yet renewed contracts for union dock workers in Phoenix and Tucson. A 10 per cent wage increase was sought, as well as a week's vacationed contracts for union dock workers in the Arizona cities now receive $25 weekly.

BEAUMONT

A total of 71,099 feet, or nearly fourteen miles of new pipe lines were laid in the Beaumont Irrigation district in the three years up to January 1, 1939, according to report of Superintendent U. S. Murphy. Of this amount 9,540 feet were laid in 1936, 38,640 feet in 1937 and 23,495 feet in 1938. Most of this work was done with the assistance of the WPA at a very low cost to the district. In addition pipe line work for this year is keeping pace with or exceeding the record of the last three years, according to Murphy, who reported that the present WPA pipe line construction project is progressing satisfactorily. The WPA has recently granted an extension of 150 days to carry on this work.

COACHELLA

Through the consolidation of the Mecca Citrus association and the Coachella Valley Citrus association into one cooperative organization called the Coachella Valley Grapefruit association, this valley is assured of its own local handling of its grapefruit. Herebefore the only association operating its packing house in the valley was the Mecca Citrus association with its packing house at Mecca. This house will be used in the consolidation and will be enlarged for an estimated tonnage of 200 carloads of fruit to be packed during the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Simpson have moved to Banning for the summer and are occupying a cottage on East Hoffer street.

Aqueduct Men Go All Over the World

With major construction work rapidly nearing completion on the 392-mile Metropolitan aqueduct, records of the Metropolitan Water district indicate that the men and equipment that helped to build the giant water supply system are scattering all over the world.

These Southern Californians, sought after because of the reputation they earned in the mountains and deserts along the Metropolitan aqueduct, and much of the construction equipment which they used, are now engaged in scores of different projects in all parts of the United States and in the far corners of the earth.

Personnel records of the Metropolitan Water district indicate that approximately 90 per cent of the skilled labor formerly employed on the Metropolitan aqueduct has since been hired on other construction jobs. Of unusual interest is the fact that many of these men are now working with the same equipment and even eating off the same dishes and sleeping on the same beds that they used on the Metropolitan aqueduct.

Of the $570,000 worth of salvaged equipment disposed of to date by the water district, the largest part has been shipped to construction jobs which are employing former aqueduct employees.

Included in this equipment have been mucking machines shipped to coal mines in Cardiff, England, drill jumbos to be used in railroad tunnel work in Central America, and other pieces of construction machinery to such widely separated points as the Philippine Islands and the Isle of Cyprus. In nearly every case a file in the water district's personnel office indicates that former employees have been sent to the same locations.

In addition to those sent to foreign scenes, men and equipment formerly employed on the Metropolitan aqueduct are now engaged in nearly every large construction project in the United States, including the Shasta Dam in Northern California, the Big Thompson Project in Colorado, the Delaware Aqueduct in New York, and the Boston water supply project in Massachusetts.

Along with hundreds of pieces of heavy construction machinery, engineering instruments, and office equipment, the water district also has disposed of many items of kitchen and dormitory equipment used in the housing and feeding of the thousands of men formerly employed on the Metropolitan aqueduct. Some of these later items have been sold to firms and individuals, such as hospitals, hotels, restaurants, etc.,

Westerfield Thanks The Voters

William J. Westerfield, who was elected high school trustee at the recent election, has asked this newspaper to express his appreciation to the voters. "I appreciate the support of the voters and will do my utmost to warrant their confidence," said Mr. Westerfield. "It is my purpose to represent the entire district and to do my part in making available to the students of the district a type of education worthy of our fine plants and equipment and in keeping with the best interests of the taxpayers."

Dr. and Mrs. William C. Gunnerson were very pleasantly surprised last week by a visit from the former's brother, Grant Gunnerson, a retired farmer from Finesville, Indiana, whom he had not seen for 27 years. Mr. Gunnerson was accompanied by his wife and Miss Helen Riggs and Miss Bernice Wann of Finesville and William F. Hayen of Charnels, Indiana. The two young ladies are school teachers. The group were guests at the Gunnerson home from Friday until Monday. They will visit other California points including San Francisco before their return to the Middle West.

that have no connection with the construction industry.

The Metropolitan aqueduct, now approximately 95 per cent completed, is the largest aqueduct in the world. Crossing the entire state of California, it will bring a billion gallons of water daily from the Colorado river to Los Angeles and twelve other cities which comprise the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California. During its construction period, which began in the latter part of 1932, it has directly employed more than 35,000 men, all of whom were required to have been bona fide residents of the water district for at least one year prior to their employment.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT, JAMES STEWART COME TO BANNING THEATRE IN "IT'S A WONDERFUL WORLD"

CLAUDETTE COLBERT AND JAMES STEWART

Heralding the arrival of one of the screen's most notable teamings, "It's a Wonderful World," starring Claudette Colbert with James Stewart, opens at the Banning Theatre tonight.

For Miss Colbert this picture marks a return to the buoyant type of comedy vehicle in which she has achieved such notable success, characterized especially by that unforgettable film, "It Happened One Night," Academy Award winner.

The production marks James Stewart's third heart affair opposite charming screen heroines in recent months.

Stewart is cast as Guy Johnson, a private detective hired to keep an oft-married Broadway playboy out of trouble. When this millionaire playboy is accused of murder Stewart becomes involved. He escapes in order to seek a solution of the murder and is caught in the act by Miss Colbert who plays Edwina Corday, a poetess. He enlists her aid and together they track down the real murderer.

In the supporting cast are such sterling players as Guy Kibbee, Nat Pendleton, Frances Drake, Edgar Kennedy and Ernest Truex.

The second feature will be "The Lady and the Mob," starring Fay Bainter and Ida Lupino.
